ANSALDO STS PRESENTS ITS 2011 SUSTAINABILITY REPORT

At its shareholders' meeting today, Ansaldo STS made public its 2011 Sustainability Report, now in its third edition.

The document illustrates not only the activities undertaken by the company during the year and the main successes and objectives achieved, but is also testimony to its commitment to increasingly important issues, such as relations within the company, respect for the environment and the need for sustainable economic growth.

For the first time in 2011, Ansaldo STS took part in the international Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP), intended to facilitate transparent communication of data relating to climate change by the world's leading companies, and entered the Global 500 of the Carbon Disclosure Leadership Index (CDLI); the company is also in the top ten Italian companies for its commitment to environmental protection and reducing climate change, and continued to collaborate and develop initiatives within the Global Compact Worldwide and Italy.

In the introduction to the 2011 Sustainability Report, Alessandro Pansa, Chairman of Ansaldo STS, emphasised that "there is no development without wealth, but it is also clear that guaranteeing wealth creation does not have only an economic basis."

Sergio De Luca, Chief Executive Officer of Ansaldo STS, recalled that "we work in a growing business and we operate with sustainable procedures; by sustainability, we mean stable and lasting Growth, Competitiveness and Respect for the Environment and Quality of life."

The document is only available in electronic format, and can be downloaded from the sustainability section of the Ansaldo STS website, and is attached to the print version of the Annual Report, which it partly supplements.

Ansaldo STS, listed on the Italian Stock Exchange, is an international leading technology company that supplies transport solutions and signalling technology in the global Railway & Mass Transit Transportation business with the provision of traffic management, planning, train control and signalling systems and services.
